Discover this unique single-story property perched on the edge of a canyon, offering two separate living units—A and B—while maintaining the flexibility to be enjoyed as one spacious home. The exterior features pleasing front lawns framed by mature trees and colorful flower beds, creating a warm welcome. Unit A begins with a bright and airy front entrance with wood floors that flow seamlessly into a large living room. A wall of windows frames breathtaking canyon views, filling the space with natural light. The adjoining dining area, complete with a built-in banquet, provides a cozy division between living and dining. The cheerful white kitchen includes painted cabinets with chrome hardware, stainless steel counters, a pantry, washer hookup, and extra storage, plus backyard access. Down the carpeted hall are two comfortable bedrooms with double closets and a full bathroom with tile flooring and a pedestal sink. Outside, a large grassy backyard opens to spectacular canyon views. Unit B shares the same front entrance but offers a slightly reimagined layout. A dividing wall separates the living and dining areas, while the expansive living room highlights the same sweeping canyon views and provides direct access to the backyard and deck. The kitchen mirrors Unit A's design but also includes an additional laundry area and storage with deck access. The bedroom wing offers two guest rooms—one with double closets—and a generous primary bedroom with its own double closets. A full bath with tile, a single sink vanity, and a storage closet completes the floor plan. The backyard extends to the canyon’s edge, where a fire pit and extra storage space beneath the home provide both relaxation and functionality. This versatile property is an excellent investment opportunity and offers the adventurous option of combining the units into a single grand residence.
